(Past 22 runnings)

The 2000m start for the Cup can be tricky with a short run to the first bend so barrier draws can play a part in ensuring a horse can get into his normal rhythm and running position. This year there will be horses that like to settle on the pace so the race should be run at an even tempo. KA YING STAR is one of those horses and he steps up from running in the Mile last year. History suggests that horses racing in midfield positions will get every opportunity to succeed.
